

DESIGNING DIFFERENTIATED LEARNING

The program is composed of three foundations that are designed to develop teaching and learning competencies in universal course design, instruction and assessment:

LEARN

Attend six Professional Development sessions to implement teaching competencies that meet Universal Design for Learning principles.

CONNECT

Complete one CTL consultative coaching session to share what you already do and discuss new ideas about teaching and learning.

REFLECT

Complete two reflection exercises to demonstrate how your growth in differentiated learning has enhanced your teaching practice.

Upon successful completion of the three foundations, participants will receive a certificate of completion

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This program is designed for faculty who want to augment their teaching practice by applying differentiated learning strategies to achieve an inclusive classroom environment

HOW TO REGISTER www.humber.ca/centreforteachingandlearning

FOR MORE INFO

Denise Gardner
Director, Professional Development
Centre for Teaching & Learning
416.675.6622 x5743
denise.gardner@humber.ca

Michele Allen
Consultant
Centre for Teaching & Learning
416.675.6622 x5694
michele.allen@humber.ca

Tara Lew
Consultant
Centre for Teaching & Learning
416.675.6622 x4949
tara.lew@humber.ca

